October 18, 2016 – New York, NY

Two-time Tony Award winning actor Matthew Broderick was made an Honorary Lifetime Member of The Lambs at a Shepherd's luncheon in recognition for his outstanding career in theater and film, and for his charitable work with multiple organizations. The heavily attended event included a 40-minute Q & A about Broderick's life and career with Lee Pfeiffer of Cinema Retro Magazine. Lifetime Honorary memberships are limited to 1 or 2 per year. Past honorees include Jim Dale and the late Ken Howard.

Originating in London in 1868, The Lambs, a club for professionals of entertainment and the arts was founded in New York in 1874 and has been operating non-stop for 141+ years. Lambs have been involved in the formation of The Actors' Fund of America, ASCAP, Actors' Equity, Paramount Pictures, Screen Actors Guild and, most recently, in the merger that created SAG-AFTRA. The luncheon was a fundraiser for The Lambs Foundation, the charitable branch of the Club founded in 1943. The Foundation supports non-profit theater, emerging talent and education in the arts.
